The Breezer Sport, a completely new aircraft with totally different technology approaches.

Breezer Aircraft has developed during the last years the design complementing of the proven B400/B600 series focussing on speed. It ended up in the Breezer Sport, a completely new aircraft with totally different technology approaches, but the same design harmony. A special focus is the retractable landing gear. „Metal made in Germany“ as well. The Breezer Sport is prepared to carry the Rotax-engines 912 UL, ULS, IS up to 915.

Magnus eFusion Magnus eFusion is an electric-driven two-seater composite aircraft.

eFusion, with its electric drive system developed by Siemens, offers technology that is universally unique at an affordable price. This aircraft is perfectly suitable for PPL, soft aerobatic and upset recovery training due to the side-by-side seating arrangement and the aircraft's dynamic performance. The zero-emission technology can be operated at extremely low cost.
